French Anarchists Still Keeping Troops and Police Busy.

Other Disturbances Caused by the Recent Attempted Outbreak of Discontented Tollers In the Old World.

By Telegraph to The Times. BARCELONA, May 2 .- By Cable and Associated Press.] Strikers conducted themselves in a riotous manner throughout the day. They impeded all kinds of business, stopping market carts and scattering and trampling upon their contents. The Royal Guard was continually engaged in attempting to disperse the rioters, but failed to quell them. Finally a state of siege was declared. Late tonight the strikers fired a toolhouse. The guard charged the mob, and two strikers were injured. Another group attacked a printing office in which a proclamation is being printed. They put a stop to work, and the authorities were obliged to get the proclamations printed elsewhere, under military protection. MADRID, May 2 .- At Valencia many of the masters conceded the demands of the workmen, but the strikers prevented the men from resuming work. Railway guards, porters and dockmen became riotous, but were suppressed by cavalry. Troops are now guarding the threatened factories and other es-tablishments. Similar disturbances occurred at Saragossa and Alicante.

THE CLAYTON MURDER.

BROTHER OF THE DECEASED TESTIFIES.

Indiana Man Who Will Corrob orate the Theory That Tom Hooper Committed the Foul Crime.

By Telegraph to The Times.
LITTLE ROCK (Ark.), May 2.—[By the Associated Press.] Before the Clayton-Breckinridge committee to-day, Col. W. H. H. Clayton told about his going to Piummerville the day after he heard of his brother's death. He said no one in Plummerville offered him any sympathy or any assistance. Houses were closed; no one was on the street and everybody avoided him. He thought the conspiracy to murder his brother was concocted in Morrillton, and that it was known to at least twenty-five men in the county that it was to occur. He believed his brother was killed by Oliver Bentley and Bob Pate. He was firmly convinced the persons who stole the ballot-box killed his brother. He did not charge the Demogratic party with being responsible. He believed the Governor had done his duty in his efforts to apprehend the assassin, but he thought he had been led off on the wrong track.

By the Associated Press. | Jared Sater Dublin, May 2.—The railway striktigation into the death of John Clayton, it will be carried to the bitter end, it will probably resume work on Monthe murderer was Thomas Hooper, who died at Los Angeles, Cal., October 10th last. Twenty years ago Sater and Hooper lived in California. Hooper then told Sater that he had already killed two men for assisting to lynch his (Hooper's) father in Arkansas some years before, and that John M. Clayton also took part in the lynching, and that he (Hooper) would yet kill him

Hooper sold his place in California, Hooper sold his place in California, saying he was going back to Arkansas to kill Clayton. That was 20 years ago and Sater never saw him again till after Clayton was killed. When Hooper returned to Los Angeles he admitted killing Clayton. SPOKANE FALLS (Wash.), May 2. By the Associated Press.] The situation in Cour d'Alene is rapidly growing worse, and serious results are anticipated on account of floods. There is still about seven to ten feet of snow in the mountains above Mullan, which is melting and coming down with increased volume. The valley below Mullan is inundated. Many families are moving out of Mullan. Wallace, Idaho, a little mining town located upon the mountain-side, is threatened with destruction. Families are seeking quarters elsewhere. Traffic upon the railroad from Mullan to the Old Mission is suspended until the floods subside. The Spokane River is still rising, and active measures are being taken to prevent serious damage n the city. Some of the bridges are expected to give way.

A passenger train on the narrow gauge branch of the Northern Pacific from Mullan to the Old Mission in Idaho was wrecked last evening. The passenger was following a construction train, the track being submerged un-der about eighteen to twenty inches of water. The anginer was proceeding der about eighteen to twenty inches of water. The engineer was proceeding cautiously, when about midway between Mullan and the Mission s washout was encountered. The engineer reversed his engine, and was making his way back to Mullan, when the track gave way, throwing the engine and baggage car off the track. The engine sunk into the mud and eight feet of water, going out of sight except the top of the pilot. The engineer and fireman escaped by jumping into the water. A Frenchman, a rancher, upon whose land the wreck occurred, came to the rescue with boats, and the passengers and train crew were transported to a place of safety.

A physical encounter ensued, both sides endeavoring to gain the presiding officer's char. Finally the anti-Bowman faction withdrew with the books and funds of the treasury to the M. E. Church, South, and held a conference of their own, electing J.

Bowers chairman.
The other faction, presided over by Bowman, remained in the Evangelical Church, where a session was held.
Each claimed to be the Oregon contained in the a seconder. Fach claimed to be the Oregon con-ference, and called the other a seceder. The Bowman faction this afternoon adopted a resolution asking the others to return and join them. This, it is announced, will be refused, and the Taylor resides on Highland avenue, near Washington street, in the southwestern suburbs, and has been in the habit of riding to and fro on a pony. As he was cantering comfortably along yesterday morning on Broadway, just below Fourth street, his horse stepped on a banana peel or some other treacherous substance and the animal's feet flew out from under him like a flash. The horse fell heavily on his side, pinioning Taylor's left leg beneath him. Almost as quickly as he went down the beast righted himself, and Taylor, not appreciating the fact that he had sustained a serious injury, attempted to rise. As he placed his weight on his left leg it collapsed and he went down in a heap on the pavement. He called for help, and Officer Hawthorne, who happened to be near, went to his assistance.

After helping the injured man into a stable near by, the officer telephoned to police headquarters, and Dr. Morrison, the police surgeon, was summoned. Yet he managed them in such an inoffensive and rollicking manner that he seemed to disarm the Court, if it had an idea of a severe reprimand at times.

The charge against Wulff tried yesterday, by Judge Clark, on the ground of desertion. The examination of Clark, the Pasadena lawyer accused of obtaining property under false pretenses, will take place Monday before Justice Lockwood. Clark is having a large number of city business men summoned as witnesses.

Mr. Montgomery, the government inspector located at Tia Juana, was on the witness stand for some time. He testified as to the returns of cattle made by Waiff during December, 1888, and produced the entries for that month, showing only 11 head returned by the defendant on which he paid duty. The witness drew a diagram of the country at Tia Juana, showing the line between the two countries.

On cross-examination re said that the custom was to show some latitude to the regular cattle-dealers and butchers in their payment of duties. He said he did not know personally that the defendant had evaded the payment of duties; all he knew was that he had only returned so many cattle during the time specified. He had been informed that Wulff had driven 14 head across the line December 14.

"Don't you know, Mr. Montgomery," inquired Mr. Brooks, "that Allison and Hardy, the wholesale butchers, are behind this prosecution, trying to sown this boy here?"

Mr.Brooks then went into the customs of the custom-house at Tia Juana, and Mr. Brooks then went into the customs of the custom-house at Tia Juana, and developed the fact that the procedure is very liberal. His questions took a very wide range, and when he finally asked the witness the question, "If cattle should come across the line on a little visit, stay one night and go back next day, would you collect duty for it?" the Court interfered and brought the persistent interlocutor back to the case, saying that the only question to be decided us whether not the defendant smuggled 14 cattle into the Juited States as charged in the indictment.

Mr. Brooks went serenely on, and asked the witness if he does not know that Wulff has a band of 50 head of cattle at Tia Juana at present. This question not being allowed, he asked why the witness had not also arrested Wulff's partner, and that question was also ruled out.

This closed the testimony for the prosecution, and Ernest Wulff was put on the stand. He was questioned briefly, and said that he did not smuggle any cattle across the border; that of the fourteen head brought from Cota he killed only eight, and paid the duty on them, the others not being fit to kill. His cross-examination elicited nothing much beyond his general denial of the charge. The jury remained out for some time, but not being able to agree, were discharged. The third indictment accuses Wulff of smuggling hogs, and he will be tried nuder it today.

The ballroom is an attractive room, occupying an entire wing, with a superb floor of inlaid woods, and its fine arched and paneled ceiling, decorated with silken festoons of yellow and scarlet. Its walls are of concrete, an enduring material, typical of the living principles of the famous organization—the "C.L.S.C."—to whose service it is to be dedicated. The building is a polygon, with floor sloping from rear to front, and no galiery. The seats rise in tiers, and there is a suggestion of the Roman amphithenter about the interior; but as the two contending factions of the Chautauqua organizations in Southern California are (if report be true) at last about to come together, the presumption is that the arena will never be used for any purpose more sanguinary than intellectual slogging.

"New Year's day." Miss Neenah Dunn, in "spotless white," carying a book of good resolutions, led the throng, after which came "St. Valentine's day," tepresented by little Charley Basseth as "Cupid." "Arborday" followed, Dr. Piace carrying a spade, with his assistants bearing small trees. "Gen. and Lady Wastington;" Mr. and Mrs. Viele, were impersonated in honor of "Washington's birthday." "Spring" was ushered in by Miss Della Sweetser in a dainty and appropriate costume. Then came the days of Lent, ladies in black passing across the stage with slow step and dejected mien; between these came "Easter day." In "All Fools' day" Messrs. Treadwell and Vawter, in jester costumes, carried off the honors. "May day" followed, and a group of happy children going to the time-honorest. The stately notes of the Wedding March announced the advent of "Bridal day," represented by a bride, Mrs. Dr. Elliott, in her elegant bridal robes with her four bridesmaids, Mmes. Tierney and Vawter and Misses Middleton and Chapin, attired in faintinted evening dresses. Tall and stately Mrs. Sweetser appeared as the "Longest day," June 21st, and then was ushered in the glorious "Fourth of July," headed by the "Goddess of Liberty," Mrs. A. J. Myers, accompanied by "Uncle Sam," Walter Gray, and followed by the Juvenile Drum Corps of Santa Monica, headed by Mr. Gardner and Mr. Brotherton playing "Yankee Doodle." This group thoroughly aroused the patriotism of the audience and was loudly applauded. Mrs. Ray, followed by her beautiful and valuable dog, impersonated "Dog days," Miss Mary Rubeam, in trailing robes, bearing a basket of fruit, followed, as "Autumn." Miss Alice Morse, in a gorgeous dress of gold, followed by Malcom Treadwell as the typical miner, represented "Admission day." Miss Folsom impersonated "Indian Summer." Erank Bundy then appeared, bearing the President's proclamation for a "Thanksciving day," Mrs. Roth in her skating costume brought to our minds the kind of winter December ushers in in less favored climes. Tiny Mrs. Gillis, wrapped in furs, followed as the "Shortest day." The veritable "St. Nicholas," by special request, consented for this time only to appear on the 1st of May. "Father Time" with his inexorable seythe—A. Suits—indicated that the days of the year, as well as those of the march, were ended. Altogether it was the most effective production of its kind ever brought before the public of Santa Monica.

A MODEL MUNICIPALITY.

A few years ago some one wrote a Part of the Republic?" and he argued, with considerable force, that in the great American municipalities the traces of a democratic form of government were difficult of finding; that, with rare spasms of reform, in which the popular will more or less asserted itself, cities were merel; the duke doms of bosses or the oligarchies of rings.

There is more touth than poetry in this statement. American municipali-ties are certainly not institutions to which we can, as a rule, "point with On the contrary, they are probably the weakest point in our sociopolitical fabric. Such being the case, it is interesting to note how affairs are conducted in what is said to be the best governed city in Europe, A writer in the Century shows how succrasfully Scotch business habits are applied to the running of the corporation of Glasgow, which city has been growing rapidly and now has a population of 775,000, covering an area of about 15,000 acres; that is to say, more than ten times the populaof Los Angeles, in about twothirds of the space covered by the limits of this city. Glasgow is a selfmade city; a modern creation, formed by the establishment of a deep water port on the Clyde. The development of iron and coal mines was followed by iron shipbuilding.

The government of the city is vested in 50 members of the Town Council. They are water commissioners, gas trustees, market and slaughter-house commissioners, city improvement and park commissioners. In fact, all the sions necessary for the execution of any particular work are exercised by these 50 members of the Council. The sanitary department is set down as a model of good work. Fifty inspectors are constantly engaged in hunting out and correcting nuisances. rritorial Government in Okla-Five men are constantly employed in inspecting lodging-houses. Resides these, five women are employed as house to house visitors. There is one feature of municipal life in Glasgow which certainly detracts from the char acter of a model city. It is shown that 126,000 families in that city live in single-room tenements, and 228,000 live in two-room tenements. In these over crowded tenements the inspectors are constantly at work ferreting out nuisances and contagious diseases.
Glasgow has established public baths and washhouses at a cost of not less than $600,000. For the sum of 2 pence ern facilitites for cleansing clothes including steam heating, hot and cold water, machine driers, hot air apartments and a mangle or machine for smoothing the garments, so that at the end of an hour a housewife may go home with a basket of clothes washed, dried and ironed. Giasgow owns its own gas works. The cost exceeded $2,600,000. Twenty years management by the municipal corporation has given complete satisfaction. The price of gas, which in the years 1866-70 was $1.14 per 1000 feet, was reduced in 188 to 68 cents. The municipality from the profits has been able to construct new works, to write off large sums for de preciation pipes, and to accumulate a sinking fund of $1,000,000. It is estimated that 70 per cent. of the people use gas for fire and cooking. The mu nicipality does not attempt to make money or to raise more than is neces sary to keep the works in good order and to create a sinking fund which in the course of a long term will pay the original cost of the works.

The effy has built model tenement-houses in the most crowded districts, and has bought "unsanitary property" for the purpose of opening courts. It has opened 27 new streets for that purpose and has demotished a great number of the Masonic order, were entertained this evening at Masonic Temple. has built model tenement-houses in bought "unsanitary property" for the unsanitary buildings. The street railroads are controlled by the municipality, and pay a rental of $750 a mile. On some roads workingmen are carried, morning and evening, for a cent. Glasgow owns its water-works. An inexhaustible supply of pure mountain water is brought to the city, through a great aqueduct, from Loch Katrine. The city has made these works pay, and accumulated a large sinking fund, while reducing charges from year to year. The great pressure in the mains extinguishes fires without the use of engines, and cheap water has attracted many valuable manufacturing industries. The city lights all the courts, and has even gone so far as to provide lights for the common stairways of tenement-houses Here is certainly an example that might be emulated in this moreover, an example which flatly cor tradicts the assertion so frequently made by interested parties in the United States, that only private companies should supply cities with water gas and other facilities. What Glasgow has accomplished American cities ought to be able to do also

Mignon, the opera of the evening, contains so many well known and beautiful airs, that it is always a favorite, and the company last night did full-justice to the score, with the exception of Tom Karl, whose continued horseness pre-vented him from making any effort in his role of "Wilhelm," and the performance suffered, of course, to some extent, in con-

Her voice is admirably suited for the music of the part, and there is an apparent simplicity in her style that goes well with the character. A little variety in facial expression would, howsver, be an improvement. A changeless suite, however fascinating, is not appropriate to the expression of "Mignon's" distress. The "swallow duet" with "Lothario" was admirably sung, as was also her famous solo, "Know'st Thou the Land?" The song with the "Styrienne" refrain which "Mignon' sings before the looking-glass in the second act is the most characteristic thing in the part, and it was charmingly rendered by Miss Corden.

Marie Stone as "Filina" secured a storm of applause for her brilliant and finished execution of the difficult polacea, "I'm Now Titania," which is the most showy piece in her rôle, and it is needless to say that she earned her share of the honors of the evening.

Her solo was received with much applause, but the rather abrupt entrance of "Wilhelm" prevented the repetition which it was the evident intention of the audience to demand.

CHICAGO, May 2.—[By the Associated Press.] The threatened strikes in this city which may be said to have technically begun yesterday, when organized labor took its holiday, were not make apparent until this morning when the men failed to resume work at many shops. Black road in the yicinity of McCormick's Reaper Works vicinity of McCormick's Reaper Works had much the same appearance as it had four years ago. None but strikers could be seen and they had entire pos-session. Every man, boy and girl em-ployed in the Malleable Iron Works, on Twenty-sixth and Rockwell streets is out. The total num-ber of employés is 1200. No particular reason was assigned by the men for quitting work. A committee was appointed last night to wait upon the officials, but they seemed disin-clined to go before their employers. President Bailey called the strikers about him and upraided them for going out without notice and told them. they found out what they wanted, to let him know their demands. The men seemed not to know what to say in reply. The chairman of the molders' committee says they want 10 hours as a day's work, 15 cents advance in wages and 50 per cent. extra for overtime. At the great McCormick Reaper Works about fifty molders went out, but work was progressing as usual.

The entire number of employés of the N. K. Fairbank Company (soaps and lard) will go out on Monday. The coopers, to the number of 80, struck this morning. This was a surprise as the men employed by Fairbank are receiving better was than those paid elsewhere. They want eight hours' work and nine hours' pay. About six hundred men will strike. The coopers are earnest in their demand for eight hours and in all portions of the city men are quitting work on refusal of the employers to surrender.

Silcott's Victims Pony Up.
WASHINGTON, May 2.—Congressmen Sayers of Texas and Bland of Missouri have returned to the treasury drafts for the money they lost through the defalcation of Silcott, and it is understood some others will follow their example, on the ground that the House should not have voted to repay embers for stolen money.

Two Reports on Irrigation of Arid Lands Forthcoming in the Senate--The River and Harbor Bill.

By Telegraph to The Times. WASHINGTON, May 2 .- | By the Asciated Press. ] A large number of inquiries have been received by Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee respecting the date of the probable passage of the Tariff Bill. The date fixed in the bill for the beginning of its operations is July 1st next, and from statements contained in these communications, it appears that the business of the country is in a very unsettled condition in anticipaof unlooked-for changes in the tariff. It is stated that the sugar trade, in particular, is depressed and disturbed. To these inquiries the reply is being made that the Senate cannot possibly pass the bill finally before the 1st of July, which fact in itself would neces sitate a change in the date fixed in the bill, and the probabilities are that the change to be made will provide that the bill shall not take effect before the next calendar year, and possibly not until the 1st of July, 1891.

A Report on Canadian Discrimina tion Against American Trade. WASHINGTON, May 2.- By the Asciated Press. | The special committee to investigate the alleged diverting of commerce from railroads of the United States to those of Canada, and the alleged discrimination of Canadian canals against American vessels, presented a report today. It recommends that, as by an order of the Council Canada charges entrance and clearance

Concerning the traffic of Canadian roads in competition with American roads, the committee recommends that either such a license system shall be established as will be applicable to Canadian railroads doing business in the United States, or some other plan not injurious to general trade and commerce of the boundary be adopted, which shall secure to American railroads.

Many of his lady friends belong to Good Will Lodge No. 313, I.O.G.T., and Eckstrom, in sportiyeness, would give them the halling sign of the order. Occasionally be would vary the amusement by presenting them with a bottle of beer. At Eckstrom's boarding-house, on Flower street, are several male and female members of the Good Templars' lodge. Naturally, Mr. Eckstrom's little jokes were told in the lodgeroom, and John soon became a thorn in the side of the Good Templars. One afternoon recently John good-naturedly made a kite for the little son of one of the members, and he painted thereon the passwords of the order. This also was told in the lodgeroom, and John's conduct horrified the members. He was notified while coming out of the opera-house lately that a committee of Good Templars were waiting to punch his head. As he was escorting a lady at the time, Eckstrom said he could not very well accommodate the committee just then, but would do so on some other occasion. At his boarding-house, Eckstrom learned that threats were being made against him by several members of the lodge.

Thursday morning Eckstrom met A. E. Rodell on Spring street, near Third, and asked him what kind of bluff he was making. Rodell, being one of the self-appointed committee from Good Will Lodge, replied that he was able to back up any bluff he made, whereupon Eckstrom let out his right with a La Blanche swing for Rodell's nose. He fell short, however, and as Rodell's fighting qualities had oozed out at his fingers' ends, he started to run, and received, as Eckstrom says, a "swift kick in the pants."

A short fight followed, in which Rodell was ornamented with a black eye. Yesterday morning he had Eckstrom arrested for battery, and John pleaded guilty and was fined $5.45, the cost of his arrest. general election in November, 1888. The Chinese, a small-growing fruit not over six or eight feet high, is the one which produces most of the fruit shipped to San Francisco. The shipments amount to eight or ten thousand bunches per month. The native or Kanaka banana is an excellent fruit baked or fried, and very wholesome. It was a mercy to both of us, however, that I did not accept the pipe, for Bismarck smoked so incessantly that within fitteen minutes the room was dense. After he had finished his own pipe he helped brimself to the one that I had reused, and smoked it out with astounding energy. When I rose at the end of the evening from the table at which we were sitting, the smoke was so thick that I could hardly see the Chancellor's face.'' It would be interesting to know, for a fact, whether when Marcus D. Boruck speaks he speaks the Governor's sentiments, or when R. W. Neither thinks he will be nominated, and one of them "knows" he cannot be elected, if nominated. Resolved, that in all counties which cast three thousand or more votes for the Harrison and Morton electors, primary elections must be held under the provisions of the election laws governing primary elections as provided in the Political and Penal Codes of the State of Californis. said: "You are my prisoner." Converse talks as readily as he writes, and succeeded in eluding the grasp of the local Hawkshaw, and it is very likely that he has fled to Gnatemala, as he has spent considerable time in that country.

Three years ago he left New York and made the tour of Europe in the interest of the Thompson Electric Light Company, and succeeded in introducing the system in Berlin and other German cities, after which he visited Rome and the principal European cities in the interest of the company, and was very successful. In Berlin he met one of those "American belies," who are so numerous in Europe, and who have no fortune or other visible meaus of support. This beautiful spider so wove her well-planned net around him that it required the aid of one of the members of the firm to extricate him from her blackmailing meshes.

The member of the firm returned to New York, and Converse took a trip over to the famous, or infamous, Monte Carlo, to test Dumas's epigram: "Unlucky with women; lucky at cards!" But his luck was similar to that among the poker buncoista in this city, and finally he was discharged from the company's service. He then came west to outgrow his misfortunes, and was empioyed as a telegraph operator in San Francisco until a few months ago, when he was taken into the service of the Edison Electric Light Company. the ch irman and secretary of the county committee.

In counties where no primary elections are required to be held under this call, the committees recommend that the county committees shall take such steps for the selection of delegates from their respective counties, by primary elections or otherwise, as in their judgment may be deemed for the best interests of the party.

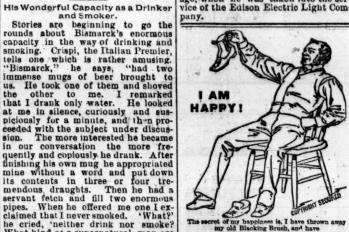

Resolved, that the delegates elected to the State convention be, and they are hereby empowered, provided other provisions therefor has not theretofore been made, to act also as delegates to the several district therefor has not theretofore been made, to act also as delegates to the several district conventions for the nomination of Representatives to Congress, members of the State Board of Equalization, and Raliroad Commissioners, and such delegates may meet in district conventions during the recesses of the State convention to make their respective hominations and to report the same to the State convention before final adjournment.

THE"FLY" ELECTRIC-LIGHT MAN

Repeated Downfalls of B. F. Converse, a Man of Many Re-sources and Strange Experlences.

THE TIMES Thursday morning contained an exclusive account of the "ec centricities" of B. F. Converse, the agent of the Edison Electric Light Company of New York, who left the city owing about two thousand dellars, for the main portion of which borrowed sums he worked off worthless checks. While boarding at the Hollenbeck he was surrounded by a gang of sharpers, who, in addition to allowing him to pay for sundry and divers "swell" suppers, would nightly inveigle him into a game of poker and regularly fleece him. As he was a very ready writer, he would make a raise the next day by drawing a check either on the New York house or on the San Francisco

New York house or on the San Francisco agency.
What little money he withheld from the bunco-poker players he contributed toward encouraging the drama—that of the flesh-colored-tights stamp. In the Sweet Evangeline combination of "feminine grace and loveliness," he found one whom he especially admired, not for the sake of art alone, but because of her "loving eyes of blue" and elegant stage presence.

About two weeks ago he obtained $600 from the Hollenbeck Hotel, and when the check was returned dishonored he temporarily squared the matter by paying over $300 by drawing another check which some one else cashed.

another check which some one else cashed.

All things have an end, especially time checks; and as they returned more rapidly than he could issue new ones, he plainly saw the cloud gathering, and as the Sweet Evangelists were dated for San Bernardino he sought additional danger by flight; and, on Wednesday of last week, left by the light of the electric lamps. His wife and baby had arrived from Boston only the day previous.

It was thought that he had gone to San Francisco to endeavor to raise

The Sewer Sult -- A Glance at Its

Present Status -- Location of the Sewer and Sewer Farm
--Eriefs and Personals.

Last Thursday evening the regular monthly meeting of Company B, C.N. G., was held at the company rooms in the Wooster block. Sergt. Lan-caster presided; Private Berry acted as secretary, and a fair sized attendance was present.

The minutes of the last meeting were ad and approved.

Sergt. Buchanan moved that Company A of Los Angeles be invited to participate in dress parade drill in Pasadena, on Decoration day, May 30th, which motion was unanimously Segt. Buchanan next moved that the company turn out en masse Satur-day night, May 3d, and clean up the parade grounds on Vineyard street, between Raymond and Fair Oaks ave-nues, each member to be armed with either a shovel, hoe or pickax. Unan-imously carried.

nues, each member to be armed with either a shovel, hoe or picksx. Unanimously carried.

An important question then came under the consideration of the meeting, it being the plan forwarded by several prominent gentlemen of Pasadena, who offer to put up for the primary use and benefit of Company B an armory and drill hall, but to reserve to themselves (the builders) the exclusive use and control of the huditorium on the non-drill nights. Ben Hahn violently opposed the scheme, upon the ground that the exclusive rights in the premises were not reserved to Company B. A committee of three, composed of Buchanan, Lancaster and Vail, was appointed to wait on the above parties in question, and after due consideration of proposed building plans, etc., to report fully at the next business meeting.

Upon motion of Ben Hahn it was unanimously carried that the company should be christened "The Markham Guards," complimentary to Pasadena's distinguished citizen. Cal. H. H. Mark-

After considerable discussion it was After considerable discussion it was decided by a majority vote that the name of some thirteen members be stricken from the roll-call, and recommended to a dishonorable discharge.

On motion it was decided that absentees be duly fined 25 cents for the first, 50 cents for the second, and $1 for each succeeding offense, excepting for written causes, which was carried.

damage to the defendant at $1. As a sequel to the foregoing the following data will prove pertinent. The much-talked of sawar farm lies above a sequel to the defendant at $1. As a who died not long since, was as miserly in trifles as he was extravagant in other directions. It was one of his data will prove pertinent. The much talked-of sewer farm lies about a mile beyond Alhambra. The outfall system has been completed only as far as the middle of Alhambra township, the sewer plpe having been laid that far in its course, which, commencing in the heart of the city, follows Raymond avenue until it almost reaches its southern terminus, then crossing under the Santa Fé and Cross road tracks, finding its way through the rear of the Raymond property out to Garfield street, runs the length of Garfield street, runs the length of Garfield street, truns the length of Garfield street, truns the length of Garfield street, runs the length of Garfield street, the continue through the center of Alhambra, crossing under the Southern Pacific Railroad and continuing down Garfield to San Marino street, where it turns and follows the street in a straight line until it empties into the sewer farm. An injunction drawm by the property-owners on Garfield street is at present resting on 150 feet of the line of sewer construction just described, but despite the fact the way to the sewer farm is by Thursin a straight line until it empties into the sewer farm. An injunction drawn by the property-owners on Garfield street is at present resting on 150 feet of the line of sewer construction just described, but despite the fact the way to the sewer farm is by Thursday's decision practically clear. It remains to add that if the City Council chooses to give orders for the continuation of the work on the nearly completed outfall today, the work can be pushed ahead and the sewerage system absolutely completed to the farm inside of three months. After this outfall has been completed by the city, thus providing a drainway to the sewer farm, then the rest remains by contract in the hands of the Pacific Sewerage Company.

Yesterday afternoon a party composed of Councilmen Lukens, Banbury, Clarke and McQuilling, ex-Councilman McLean, City Engineer Mayer and C. C. Brown visited the sewer farm and inspected the sewer route, one of the results, it might be said, of the late decision in the Superior Court.

The Route of the Sewer and the Sewer Farm.

A great deal of interest has been manifested by the people of Pasadena during the trial of the sewer suit of the city of Pasadena vs. Bishop et al., which has been before the Superior Court at Los Angeles for a number of days past, and which was brought to a nappy termination for the city of Pasadena, plaintiff, condemning the right of way and assessing the damage to the defendant at $1. The Secret of Success.

The secret of Success.

The secret of success in life is to keep busy, to be perservering, patient and untiring in the pursuit or calling you are following. The busy ones may now and then make mistakes, but it is better to risk these than to be idle and inactive. Keep doing, whether it be at work or seeking recreation. Motion is life, and the busiest are the happiest-Cheerful, active labor is a blessing. An old philosopher says: "The firefly only shines when on the wing; so it is with the mind; when once we rest we darken."

A Temperance Rhyme.

Sing a song of sixpence, you fellow full of rye, with not a cent to bury you, tomorrow, should you die. The keeper's in the bar-room, counting out his money, his wife is in the parlor, with well-dressed sis and sonny, and your wife has gone out working and washing people's clothes, to pay for old rye whisky, to color up your nose.

A Song of the Unattainable.
For the few-and-far-between.
For the very-seldom seen,
For the un-cation-bod-upon-abio I sigh!
The unclutchable I'd clutch,
The untouchable I'd touch,
For the ungrabbed and ungrabbable I'd die!

Oh. I burn, and sigh, and gasp
For the just-beyond-the-grasp.
For the far-unovertaskable I yearn;
And the vulgar bure-and-now
I ignore andd-a vow
And the good-enough-for-others, how I spurn!

Oh. I moan, and cry, and screech
For the just-beyond-the-reach,
too-far-awny-to-grab I would ensua
The unguinable I'd gain,
The unguinable attain,
chase the un-catch-one to its lair.
